To whom it may concern,

I am writing today to express my interest in your hiring post. I am a full-stack software engineer with a flair for creating both native and cross-platform applications. My passion lies in creating clean and functional user interfaces for mobile consumers. Over the past decade, I have developed everything from desktop applications utilising a variety of ground-breaking technologies, such as blockchain and deep learning, to mobile games and tools.

I thoroughly enjoy being challenged and engaging with projects that require me to work outside my comfort and knowledge set, as I am constantly striving to improve upon my abilities. My most recent experience that reflects this drive is my current position with New Signature, where I am the lead developer working directly with Microsoft engineers to develop both a blockchain platform for the real estate industry and a refined document analysis platform utilising deep learning. This position has allowed me to push the limits of my experience with the latest technologies in the field, blockchain and AI, and deliver meaningful products that will help people across the globe.

Your listed requirements closely match my background and skills. A few I would like to highlight that would enable me to be a strong contribution to your company are:
- Several years of experience developing fluid and engaging user-experiences
- Strong leadership, teamwork, and logistical skills
- Rapid mastery over many modern design and programming methodologies

I have attached my resume, which details my most recent projects and my most comfortable frameworks/languages. More information regarding my background can be found at my personal website, isaacsheikh.com, listed at the top of my resume. Additionally, I can be reached directly via my cell, (918)520-4829, or via email at sheikhisaac@gmail.com.

Thank you for taking the time to review my material. I look forward to communicating further with your team regarding this opportunity.
